

CAI MARYLAND

LEGISLATIVE ACTION COMMITTEE

The Legislative Voice in Annapolis for more than 1 million Marylanders living in Common Ownership Communities

OUR GOAL

To be recognized in Annapolis and among common ownership community homeowners as the leading organization qualified as the expert on common ownership community issues.

To view CAI's Public Policies, visit www.caionline.org, click on "Advocacy"; in the dropdown box, click on "Public Policies".

Visit the Chesapeake Chapter CAI's website www.caimdches.org for links to the: MD Condominium Act, MD Homeowner Association Act, the status of pending community association legislation in Annapolis and more.

The Maryland Legislative Action Committee (MD-LAC) is a committee of the Community Associations Institute (CAI), a national not-for-profit educational and resource organization dedicated to fostering vibrant, competent, harmonious community associations.

- Founded in 1973, CAI is a national voice for more than 60 million people living in more than 300,000 common ownership communities throughout the United States.

- CAI advances excellence through: education, professional development; involvement in community association interests before legislatures, regulatory bodies and courts; research projects; and the establishment of standards and best practices.

- MD-LAC members are volunteer homeowners, attorneys, service providers and professional managers who work directly with common ownership communities.

- Members of the MD-LAC and its professional lobbyists are always ready and willing to work with our elected representatives to address issues and, where needed, share our experience with legislation that will benefit community association homeowners.

The MD-LAC receives funding from CAI National and from the local chapters. These Funds do not fully cover the expense for a professional, paid lobbyist essential to the MD-LAC successes.

To help fund MD-LAC advocacy activities in 2016 and beyond, we invite donations from Maryland community associations, individuals and/or businesses. We welcome any donations.

Donations should be made payable to: CAI MD-LAC and mailed to the P.O. Box noted above.
